Libertyville, IL. — Lambs Farm is honored to host Wright-Way Rescue's fifth annual Kitten Shower on Saturday, July 20, from 11am to 4pm.

Every spring and summer, rescues are confronted with "kitten season," a time when thousands of kittens are born and show up at the doors of shelters and rescues. Wright-Way Rescue, a no-kill animal shelter located in Morton Grove, is one of those rescues. Lambs Farm proudly partners with Wright-Way Rescue and is a satellite location for adoptable puppies and kittens.

There will be nearly 70 kittens and adult cats at Lambs Farm's Visitor's Center available for adoption at the Kitten Shower with the hope to find dozens of furry friends their forever homes.

In addition to the adoptions, Lambs Farm and Wright-Way Rescue Adoption Center are accepting donations. Items requested include paper towels, dry and canned kitten and cat food, unscented clumping cat litter, Royal Canin Baby Food, and kitten milk replacement (KMR) for bottle-fed kittens.
